Glenvar High School
Salem, Virginia
Volume XI

Home of the 1975
Group AA State
Basketball Champions

Glenvar High School started its '74-'75 school year with an enrollment of over 1,000 students. With this great number of students, it wasn't very hard to get lost in the shuffle. In being part of this crowd, each person still possessed their own identity.

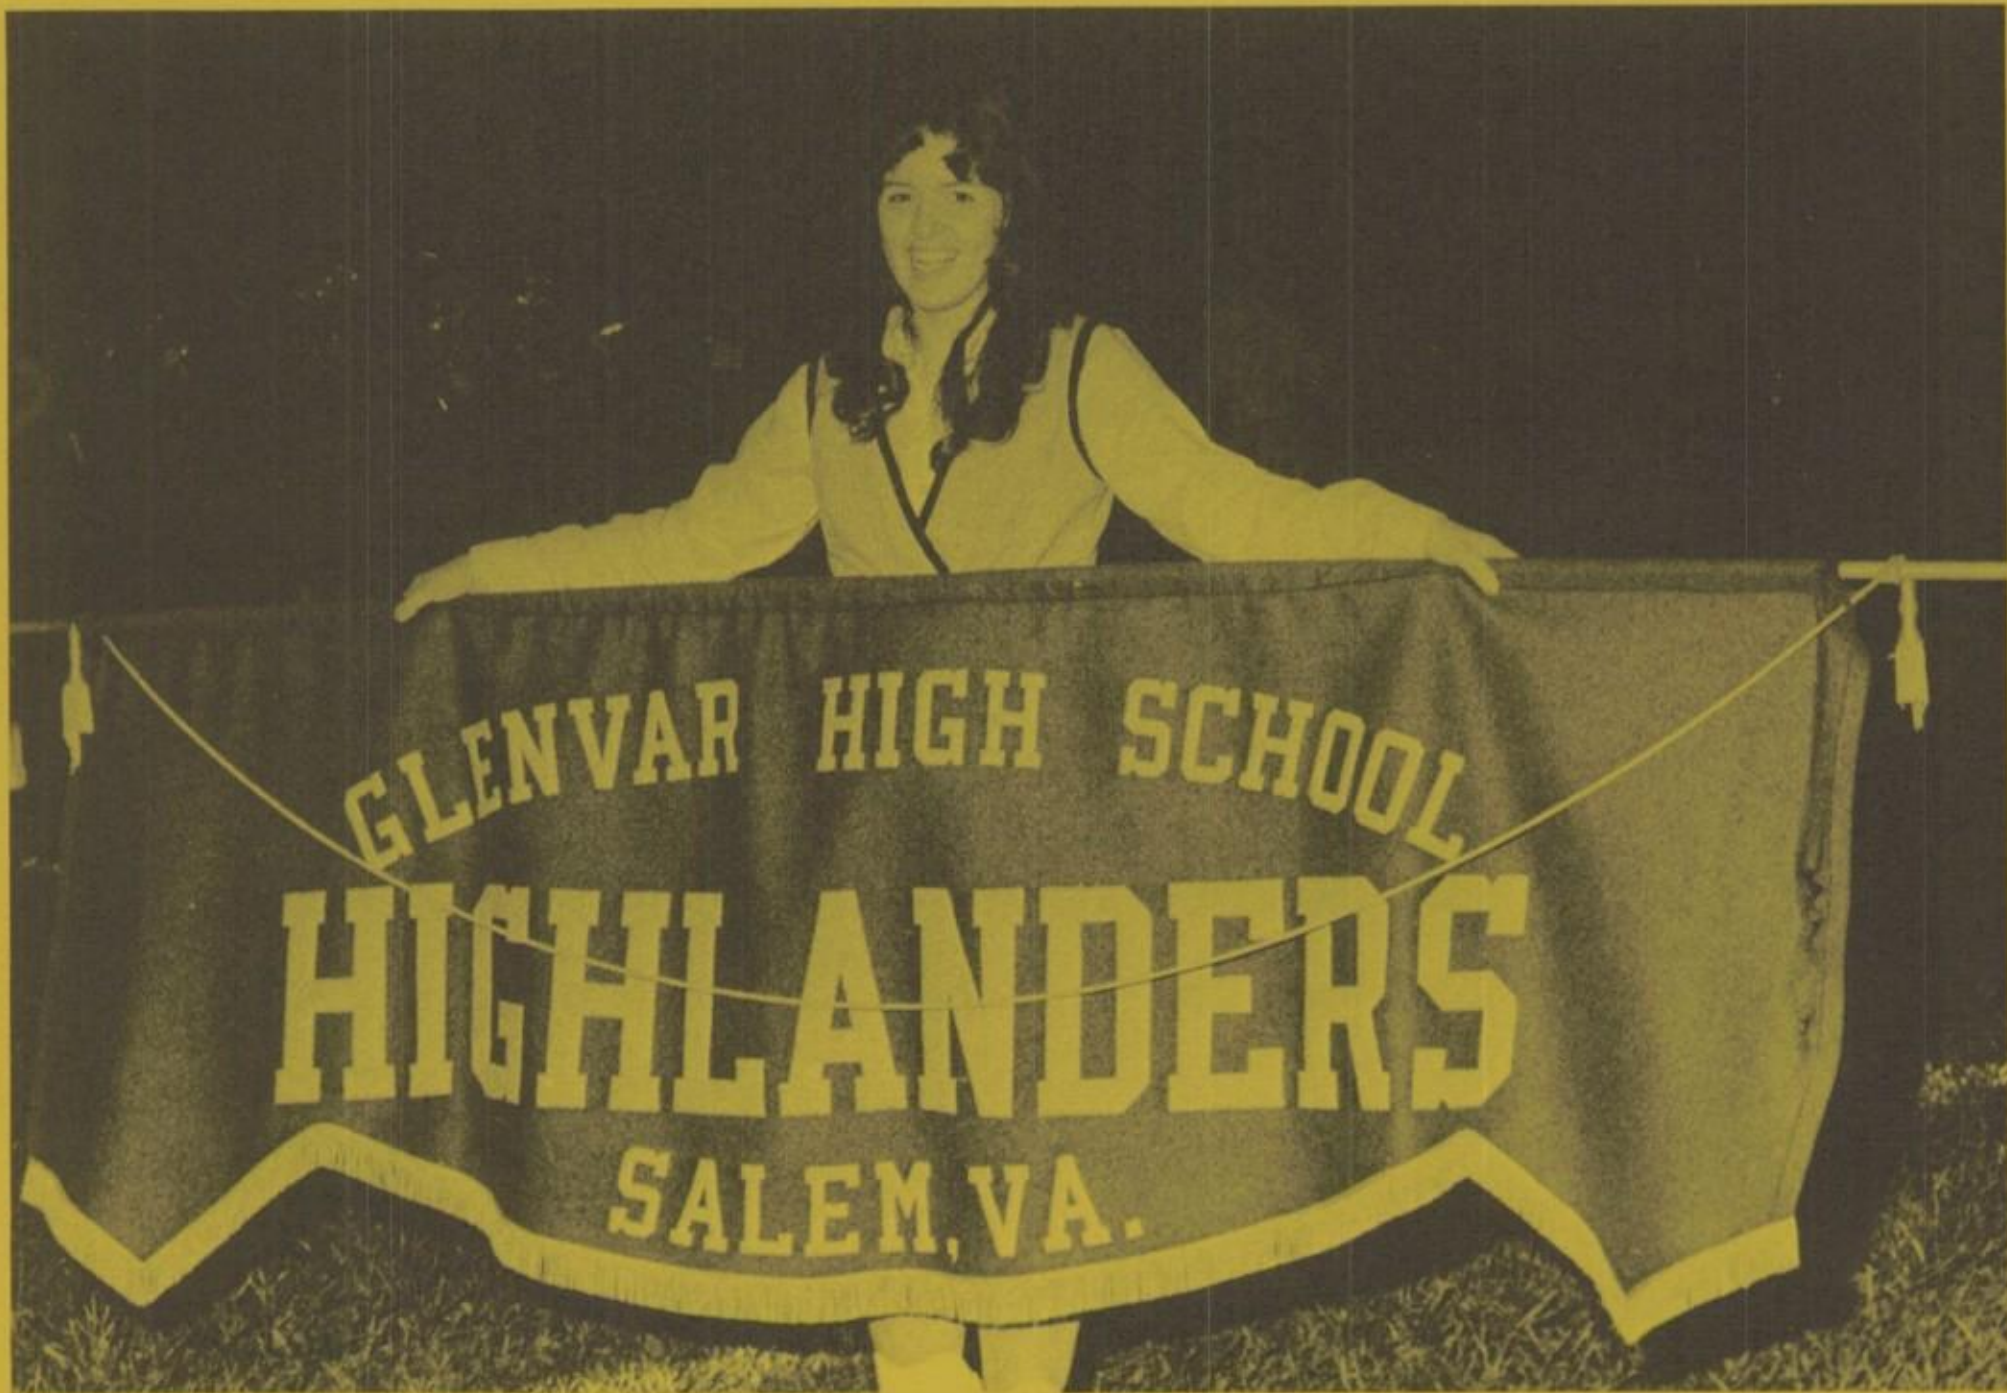

A Crowd of Many Faces

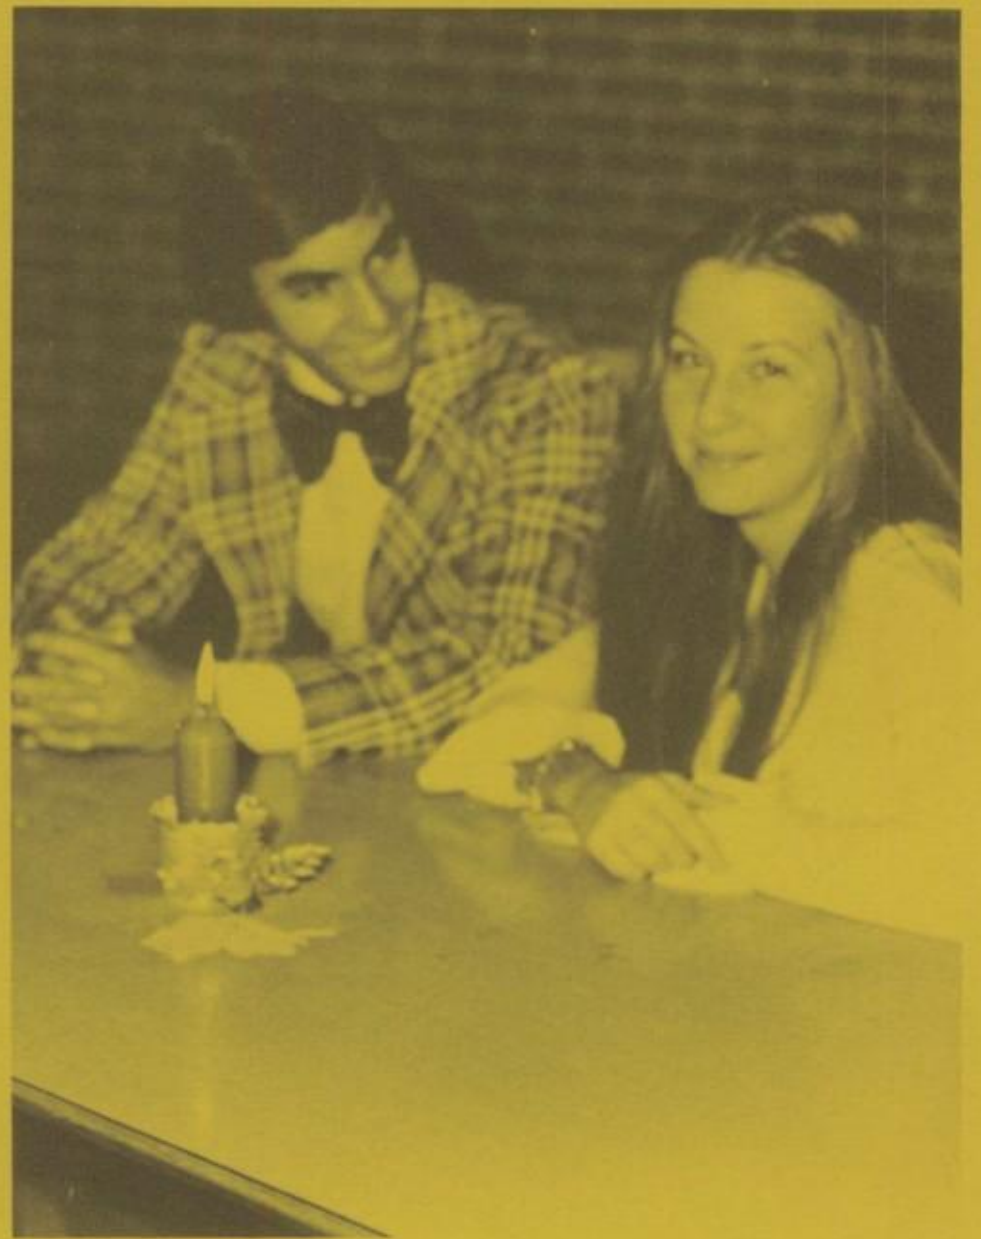

The students of Glenvar could be seen at various sports events, organizational meetings, and academic activities. Not only the students became involved but the teachers participated also. One's interests could be shown by the activities he became a part of. Whether one's time was spent practicing football or being an active member of the Red Cross Youth, this was their particular way of showing their own uniqueness.

If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away.

Just Another Face . . .

INSTRUCTORS

In today's society we often place a mask over the face of our "real" selves. There are moments though for each of us when the real self of things shines out. In one's lifetime one may meet a few people who are their real selves all the time, and these people will make a lasting impression on you. They are ever-changing beings who take each day as a bright and new start. The recipient of this award goes to one such person who tries to be themselves all the time not just part of the time. Knowing her and being close to her is not an easy thing to do. Her abilities are manifold and her personality, one that is quite unique. Once accomplishing the task of getting to know her, one would realize that she is not just another face in the crowd.

Born and raised in Ohio, and graduating from Kent State University we should all be glad that she taught at our school. Both the students and faculty must realize that she will have a lasting effect on everyone of us. She was a drama and English teacher, and an everlasting friend and advisor to the Crusader staff. In January she left us here at G.H.S. to take a turn at motherhood. We can only hope for her two things, the best of luck in whatever she does and that she does not give up teaching completely.

You have much to give to those who meet you and for your giving thus far we dedicate this the 1975 Crusader to you, Mrs. Diana Athey.

Time passes much too quick, one minute we are looking forward to tomorrow and the next we are looking back in remembrance. We realized that the senior year was not the most important year, rather a closing to the years in which we had grown so close together. The last of our high school years also proved to pass by quickly. Knowing that we may never pass this way again lead to many seniors becoming involved in school activities. The class helped sponsor the Homecoming Dance, presented the talent show and sold candles in order to make money to pay for graduation. As we leave Glenvar we realize that the love in our hearts was not put there to stay. Love is not love until you give it away.

Have Become Past, Present and Future

The members of the Junior Class really got the feeling of being upperclassmen this year. Junior athletes became involved in varsity sports and other members of the class participated in clubs, school productions and preparation for the prom. Projects for making money consisted of selling candles, candy, and presenting the boy's beauty pageant in the fall. This production with the theme of "Wild Things in Hog Heaven" could not have been successful without the help of the two class sponsors, Mr. Hall and Mr. Akers. Although the Juniors showed spirit during the entire football season, they did not get the spark plug until the last pep rally. The Juniors did more than have fun this year. There were new and harder subjects to cope with along with preparatory college boards. Deciding on next year's schedule and receiving information from colleges became part of a Junior's routine.

Mrs. Hardebeck Reflects Sophomore Success

The sophomore class set a good example for the freshman class as well as the upperclassmen this year. They did this by showing their enthusiasm at the pep rallies, contributing to the "Thistle" penny jar, and buying spirit links for the cheerleaders. Their reward for their involvement was receiving the Spark Plug several times, winning the penny jar contest, and coming in first in the spirit link contest between classes. They did not stop at these accomplishments only as the sophomore class also won first place on Color Day during Homecoming week. Along with enthusiasm, the sophomores possess involvement. They were seen in the Pep Club, the Marching Green and Gold, the Choir, and various athletics. In summing up the class of '77's past year with one word, it would have to be "competitive."

Freshmen Come In With A Bang

Experience was the principal objective for the Freshman class this year, as they took that giant step from junior high to high school. With a total of more than three hundred students, the class of '78 found that both organizations and unity were essential in order for the class to compete with the upperclassmen. As time showed, the freshman handled themselves in fine fashion, exhibiting enthusiasm as well as maturity. During the course of the year, various fund raising projects were held, giving the freshman valuable experience in the business management necessary for a class to function.

When looking at the achievement of this new class during the '74-'75 school year, there seems to be little doubt that these underclassmen are indeed a credit to their school. Thanks and a tip of the hat to the G.H.S. class of '78!

The Varsity Cheerleaders made several new changes this year. It was the first time everyone had to tryout in front of the entire student body. It was decided by the county that all area schools would tryout this way. For football season something new was also done. The basketball and wrestling cheerleaders combined to have a squad consisting of 13 girls. After the season was over they were to split up. Although there was a larger number to work with, the Varsity managed to place third at ACA cheerleading camp. Despite confusion and new methods, everyone was spirited and cheered hard.

The Junior Varsity Cheerleading squad began their hard work this summer. They attended ACA cheerleading camp where they won relay night. Under their new sponsor Mrs. Martin they continued to practice. The J.V.'s cheered for football and basketball games and some freshmen games. They also held many bake sales to support their activities, thus ending a very busy year.

"Six Inches From Victory"

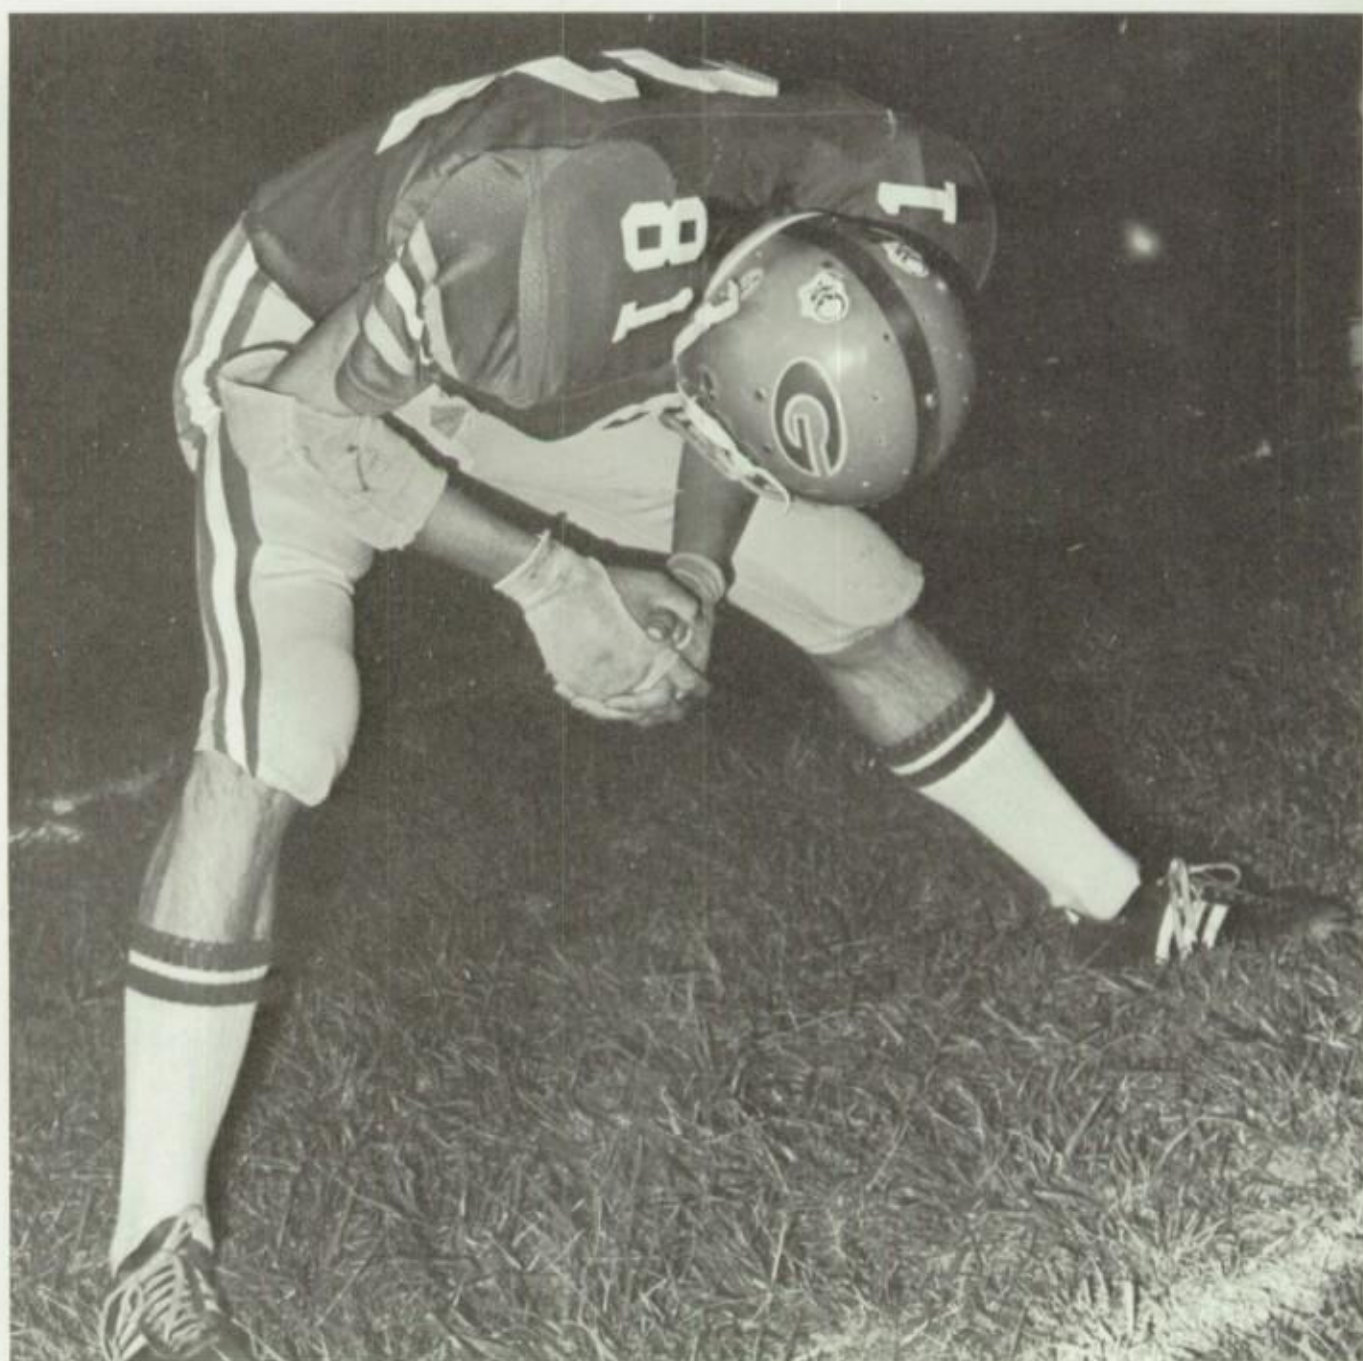

Despite the fact that there were no additional football awards in the trophy case this year, the G.H.S. gridgers did manage a fine 6-2-2 record and possibly produced the most thrilling football season in Highlander history. The ten game gridiron season was climaxed on October 25 with the clash of Salem's powers: the Wolverines of Andrew Lewis vs. the mighty Highlanders of Glenvar. Excitement and heartbreak was the story for the thousands of Highlander fans present, as their determined team was stopped inches short of dramatic victory. The tough loss, however, seemed to strengthen the squad rather than weaken it, as they went undefeated for the remainder of the season.

The success of the 1974 football team can be attributed to many factors. First of all, the coaching staff, headed by Tom Kucer, managed the team well in every respect. Secondly, the players were hardworking, determined and willing to learn — three characteristics essential in building a football team. The captains, Kenny Dillon, Vance Price, Jonathan Barger, and Tony Caldwell, provided the leadership necessary to unite the team.

Losing Season Makes No Difference!

Even though this years Junior Varsity did not win a game, the experience and pride they gained made them a better team. Despite the lack of victory their spirit never ceased. At the end of the season in the awards banquet Junior Bralley won the Most Valuable Player award.

The Freshman team showed great spirit throughout their schedule this year. They were extremely determined and played well. Through experience and Coach Ward's training they improved with every game. The climax of the freshman football season was their victory over Andrew Lewis. They edged out the Wolverines with a score of 8-6. The experience the freshmen acquired this year should prove a great help to the JV team next year.

Lakers, Nets, Bruins, Highlanders: they all have one thing in common — they boast championship basketball teams. University Hall in Charlottesville has witnessed clashes between some of the best college basketball teams in the nation. Yet, perhaps the most exciting, apprehensive, as well as mistake free basketball games held in that magnificent coliseum occurred between two high school teams. When it was all over a wonderful thought dawned on the City of Salem — Glenvar High School had become state champions.

This game was but one of many thrilling contests experienced by the Glenvar basketball squad. Players, coaches, managers, cheerleaders, and fans all made contributions in this great drive for excellence. Coach Davis' hoopsters will indeed go down in the annals of Virginia basketball history and consequently, high school will hold a more prestigious position in the memories of all of us.

J.V.'s Victorious Over Lewis

Under the coaching of Mr. Trumbower the J.V. basketball team enjoyed a good season with an overall record of 10 wins and 8 losses. A number of new players added to the basketball program. One highlight of the year was the meeting between Glenvar and Lewis. The J.V.'s played a fine game and won 44-37. The J.V.'s are looking forward to another fine season next year.

Coach Buddy Ward turned an unexperienced group into a capable team this year. The top scores were Brian Hooker and David Layne with top rebounders being David Dixon and Chuck Arrington.

Danny Hopkins and David Dixon were the captains for the freshmen team. The team and Coach Ward were very grateful for the help given by Assistant Coach Dennis Layman. The coaches said that the team aquired some very valuable knowledge this season.

Freshmen Show Promise For Upcoming Year

The 1975 wrestling team started off with a tie and ended with the 2A Blue Ridge District Championship and a first in Regionals. However, they did not stop at this point. The Glenvar grapplers placed third in the entire state. Outstanding wrestlers this season were Steve Battle; 1st in the state, Gary Harrison; 3rd in the state, Mike Dempsey; 4th in the state, and Kurt Webber; 2nd in the state. Head Coach Myers and Coach Roth molded the team to win many honors and to show their appreciation, the wrestlers presented the coaches with monogrammed shirts and a plaque and a sculpture of two wrestlers.

Cross Country was an individual type of sport. The runners did not get a lot of recognition. An average day's work out was about 15 miles. Being one of the most demanding of sports the guys ran for the love of running.

The team took second in District, second in City-County Championship and third in the Marion Invitational. The captain David Roberson took third in the Regionals and holds the school record in 3.1 mile run.

Girls Participate In Indoor Track

Under the coaching staff of Mr. Pitts and Mr. Hall the indoor track team performed the best in five years. This year six new school records were set. They were 60 and 300 yard dash, Tom Cain; 600 yard dash, Steve Pillis; 1,000 yard run, Junior Martin; 5 mile, David Roberson; and pole vault, Robby Graham. Glenvar holds the title to 7 of the 15 areas of Blue Ridge District competition. Also in State competition the indoor track team placed in six events. Continuous practice and determination proved to be the key of their successful performance.

Girls Basketball Team Gains Valuable Experience

For the last five years Susan Huffman, Linda Long, and Sharon McCoy have been a valuable part of the girls basketball program at G.H.S. This year, these three seniors were captains of the girls basketball team. They attempted to pass on the knowledge that they had obtained to the freshman and sophomore members of the team.

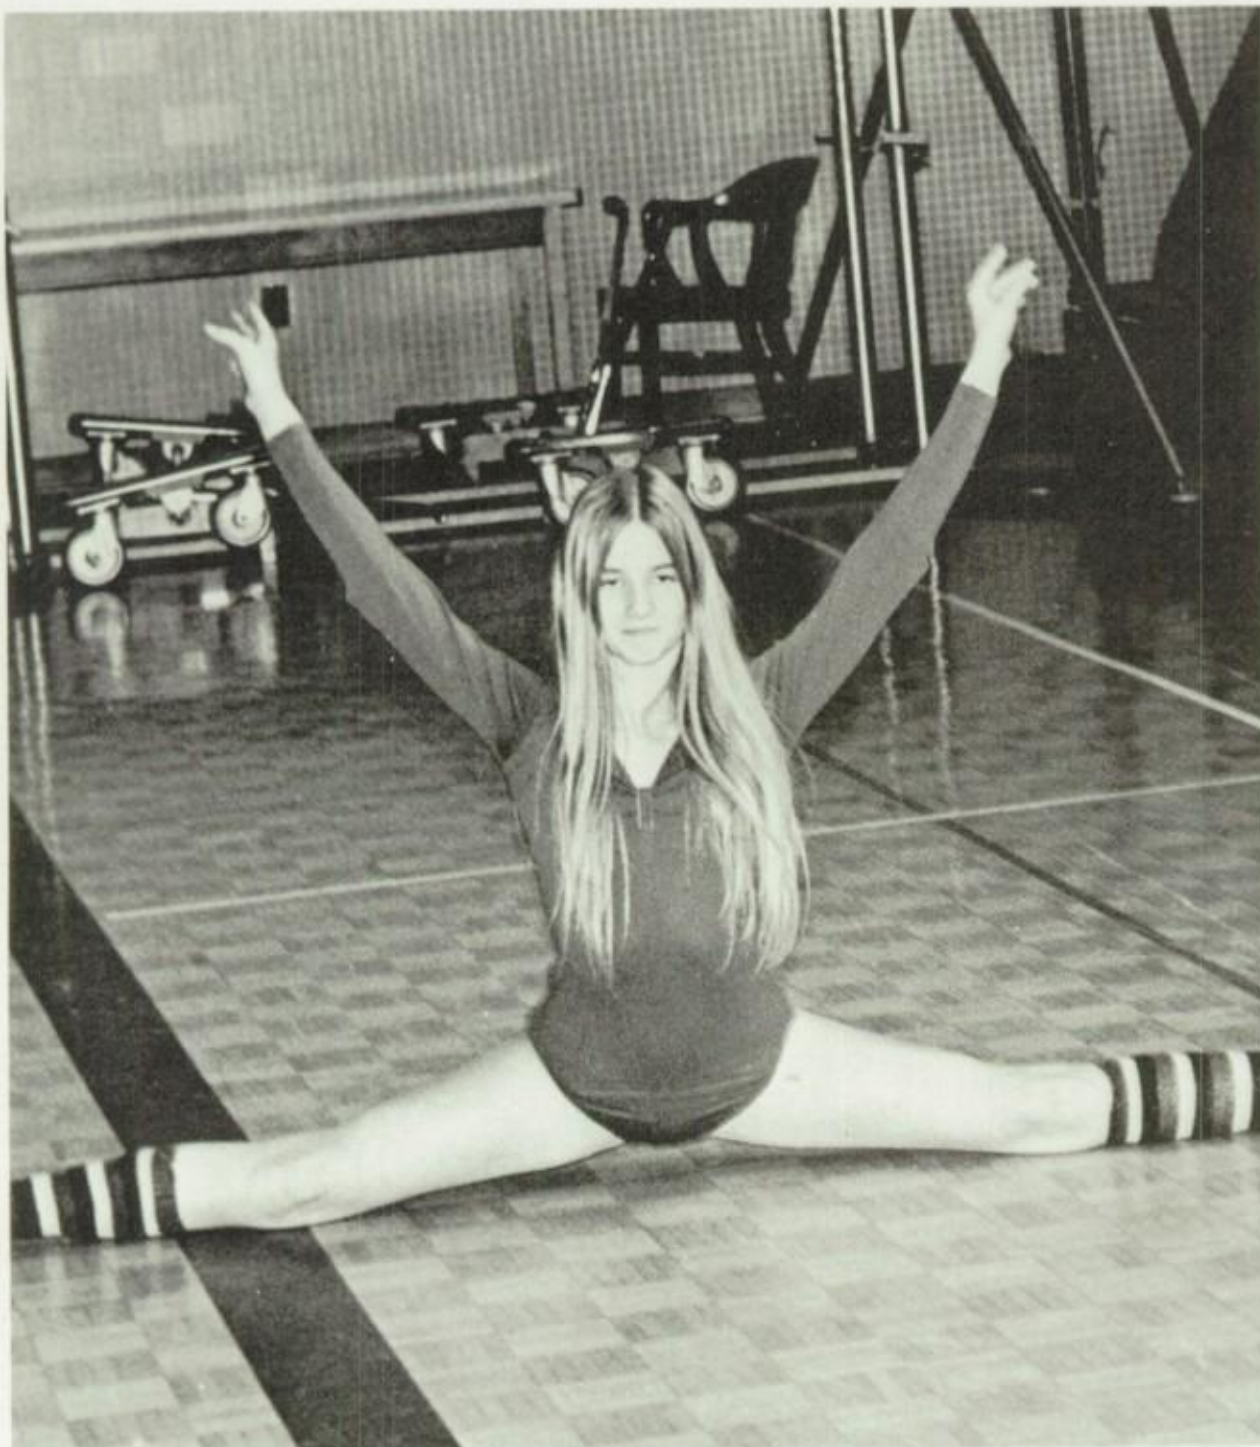

Senior Linda Long had an outstanding career at G.H.S. She scored 464 points for the Highlander team, in the last 3 years and she was named Most Valuable Player at the fall sports banquet held last December.

Nice things come in small packages. The gymnastics team was small in number but its quality was something different. Sherry Marshall and Ann Bowman placed in the regionals with Sherry attending state competition in Richmond. The team was composed of freshmen and sophomores which shows promise for coming years.

INSTRUCTORS

The faculty of Glenvar High School is supervised by Mr. Crush, Mr. Hyer, and Mr. Killinger. Managing the students and teachers, Mr. Crush carried out the job of principal smoothly. Mr. Hyer's department covered the attendance of the students and gave discipline when needed. The school's activities were headed by Mr. Killinger. With these capable leaders, the year ran very systematically.

Group Counseling Meets Needs of Students

In an effort to try and meet the needs of students at G.H.S., the Guidance Department enlarged its program to include group counseling. Students were able to volunteer for these groups to gain experience in making decisions, value judgements, and to build their self-confidence.

Also the Guidance Department sponsored the SODA Program. This was set up on a volunteer basis to work with fifth graders in helping them to express themselves.

Besides introducing new programs for the students, the counselors were available to aid students in any way they could. Whether it was a personal problem, a schedule change or advice on future plans, the counselors were always there with advice and assistance that was essential to many students.

The secretaries play one of the most important parts in the running of Glenvar. Both the students and the administration rely on them for everything from attendance cards to paper clips. Mrs. June Fielder was the head secretary and in charge of the front office. Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Woolwine helped with guidance and worked with bookkeeping and attendance. Even though the secretaries were busy they always had time to help the students and faculty.

This year the media center obtained many new materials for the students use. The library contained over 10,600 volumes and new books were constantly being purchased. The center also added more audio-visual equipment to help students with their assignments. When a student had a question about the location or operation of materials, he could get help from Mrs. Grizzard, Mrs. Chubb, Mrs. Jarvis, or Mrs. Jones. The center maintained a relaxed atmosphere and played soft music to read by. The librarians should be commended for their time and effort in helping the students.

The English department again headed by Mrs. Nichols provided the students with a variety of classes. The 3.2 program was continued again this year, and was offered to grades 10-12. Since Glenvar had a new ninth grade class and they were not familiar with the program, they had regular English classes. There were also new Tuesday, Thursday classes to choose from. There were two types of English offered for those in the higher grades. The students could choose between an academic or general English. Both of these programs were to help the students with their future needs in English.

Glenvar's math department continued to improve on the quality of education this year by providing the students and faculty with an extremely beneficial math lab. The lab successfully achieved its goal of establishing a relaxed atmosphere where students could go to learn without outside pressure.

The math lab, found in room 214, contained various equipment such as calculators, tape recorders, filmstrip projectors, film-loop projectors, and visual aids for various subject areas. Mr. Crush and the county math superintendent furnished the lab with a programable calculator in which students and teachers could write out a problem in mathematical language and the calculator would solve it.

Students went to the lab during their study halls to work on assignments or on something that was of interest to them, or to receive extra help. Students were allowed to either work alone or in groups. Some of the upperclassmen were asked to work as lab assistants during their study halls. Many math teachers found it necessary to take their entire classes to the lab to use the available material there.

The math lab proved to be a profitable asset for both students and teachers.

Growing Interest in Science

The Science Department is an ever changing department. All of the science courses offered are now lab-oriented, and the inquiry method of teaching and learning is used.

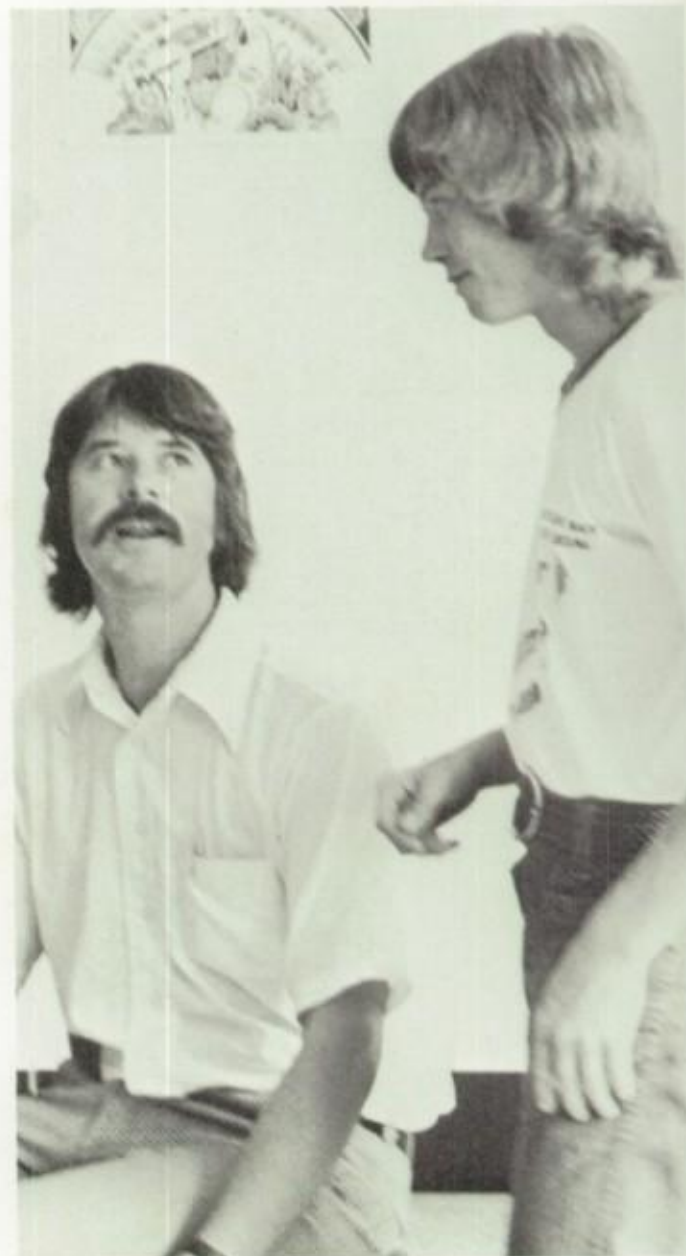

There has also been a change in the sequence of courses. On the ninth grade level earth science is offered. Tenth graders may take biology, or physics for recommended students. Additional electives are chemistry, physics, and biology. The latter is for those who have already taken physics.

With the many courses offered their seems to be a growing interest from the students.

This year the Social Studies Department attempted to aid G.H.S. students in their quest for the future with the addition of Career Education. This system along with the basic curriculum of the Social Studies classes should more than adequately inform the students as to what may lie ahead. While the principal courses in Social Studies dealt with both history and government, the more relevant issues were brought into the classroom by the two electives, Sociology and Psychology.

High School Gym New for Freshmen

Mr. Pitts, Mr. Kucer, and Mr. Finnerty taught the Boys P.E. classes with Mr. Kucer and Mr. Finnerty tackling the freshman. The freshmen centered mainly around team sports, such as football, basketball, and volleyball. Later in the year recreational sports and tumbling were also touched.

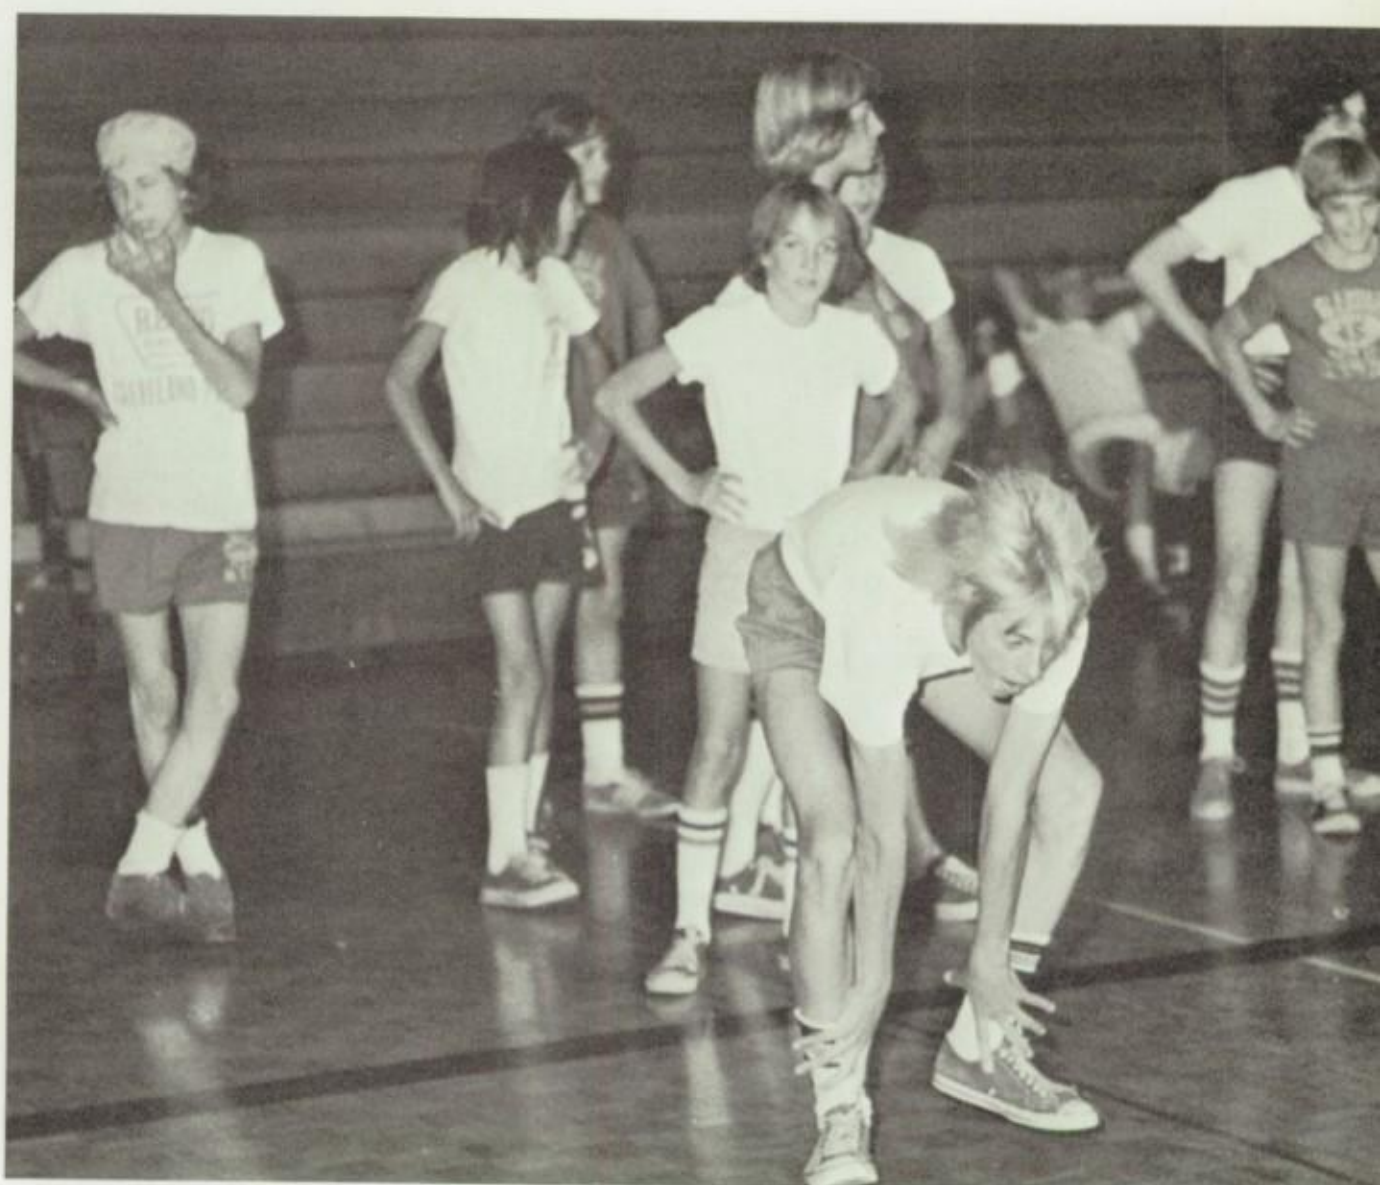

Mr. Pitts taught the Sophomores. Concentration was put on individual sports. Archery, wrestling, and weight lifting were among the few.

Advanced P.E. was offered to the boys for the second year. Skeet shooting, camping, and ice skating were some things done this year. All in all, our P.E. Department is one of the best in the state.

Field Hockey started the Sophomore's year with some bumps and bruises. Fencing followed bringing out the knights in armor. They then tried to improve their bodies with body mechanics. Recreational sports brought the girls indoors. Archery and baseball were planned for the spring.

The freshmen concentrated mainly on team sports. The Billie Jean Kings hit the courts during the fall. Basketball and team handball were played during the winter. Softball and tennis were played in the spring.

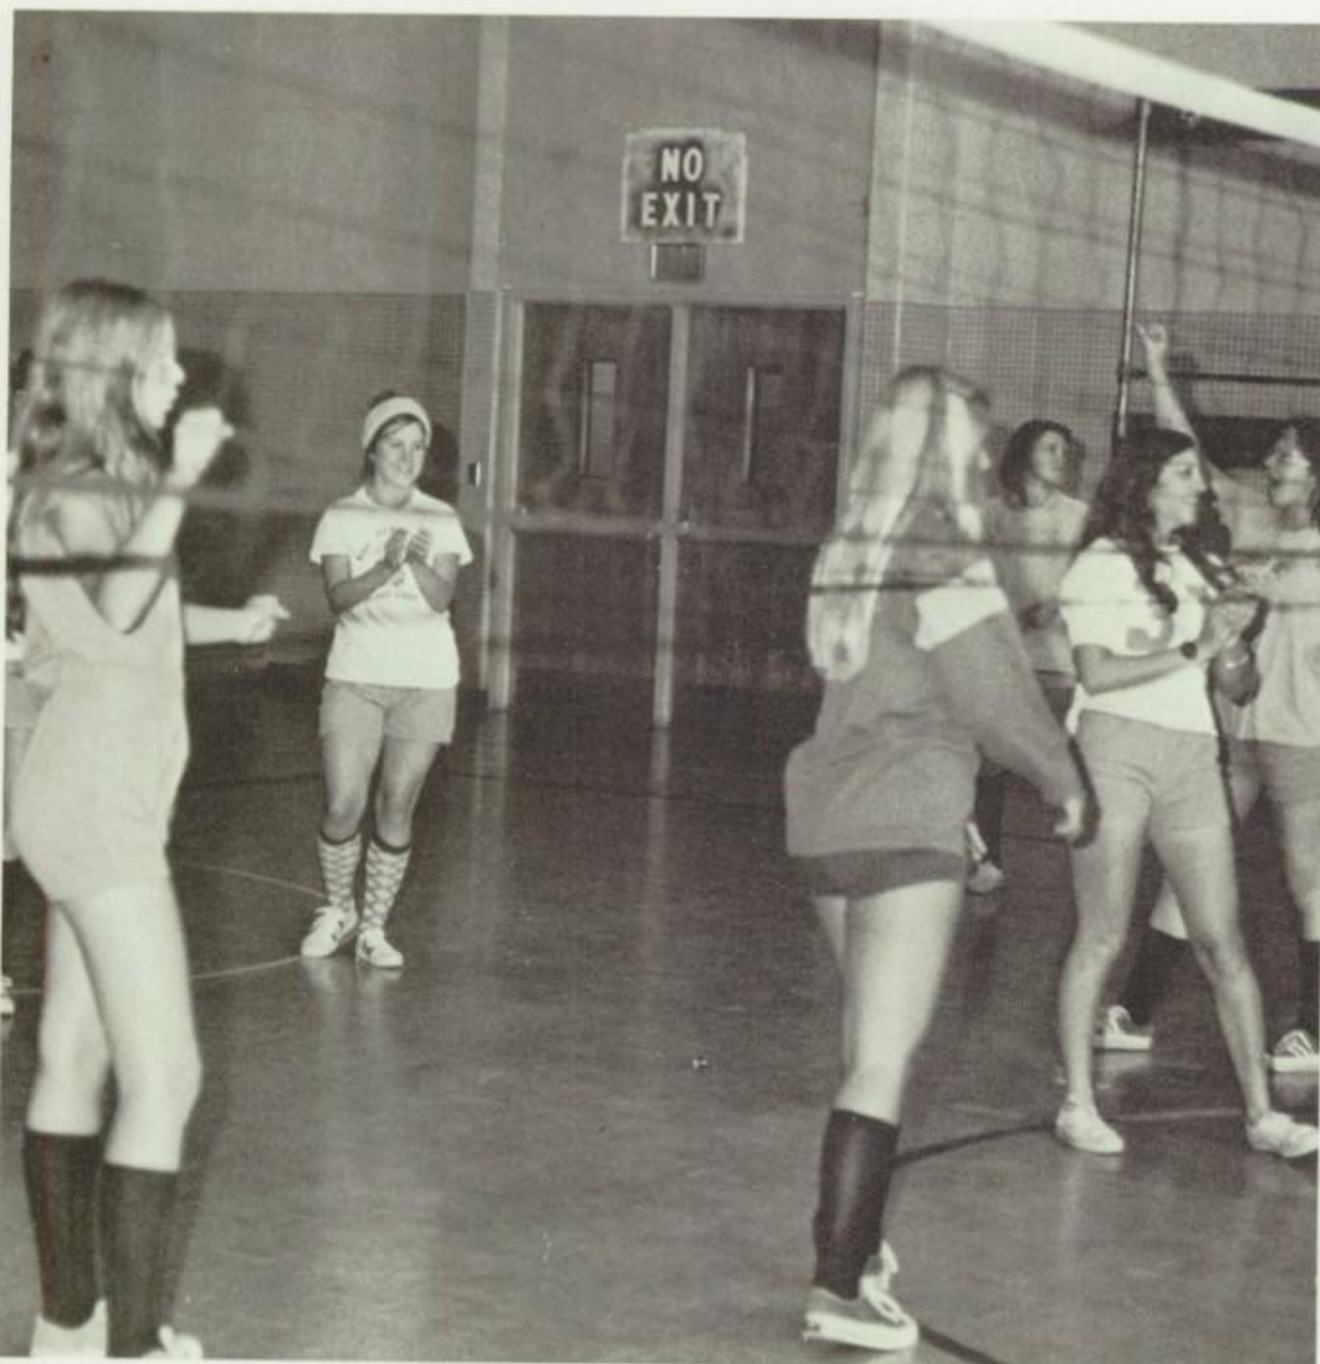

Advanced P.E. was offered for the first time this year. They concentrated on former sports but in more depth. Lacrosse, Karate, and skeet shooting were among some of the new activities.

Visit the Past-Take Latin

Since students cannot readily visit Rome and view the remains of our past, they can take Latin and learn about the languages, customs, art, and literature of a people who greatly influenced our civilization of today. First year students taking a foreign language learn conversations. Second year students speak the language, be it French or Spanish. Something new in Mrs. Carico's classes is that the only languages spoken is Spanish and if an English word escapes the room a penalty of a penny must be enforced. Reading is exercised in the second and third year courses and proved to be helpful in learning when practiced everyday.

Driver's Ed. Rolls On

The Driver's Education Department is headed by Mr. Charles Ward who is in his second year at Glenvar. Each student is required three phases of Driver's Education. First you have the classroom phase, then the range, and finally the road.

When you have met the requirements the DMV representative will give you your learners permit. After the adequate amount of time on the road and the age limit had been reached it is down to the DMV for your license, after which you are on your own.

D.E. Program Doubles in Size

Distributive Education provides specialized training for persons entering or already employed in retail, wholesale, and service occupations. Students enrolled in this program received a combination of classroom instruction and actual work experience. This allows a student to earn money as he learns and permits him to enter the business world as a trained experienced worker.

This year at Glenvar, the number of students involved in the D.E. program more than doubled. Also a new addition to the program was added. Mr. Richard Phipps joined Mr. Michael Willis as a new teacher.

The Business Department offers vocational courses for students interested in obtaining an office job after they graduate from high school. They can get working experience through such advanced courses as Clerk Typing II, Shorthand II, and the C.O.E. program.

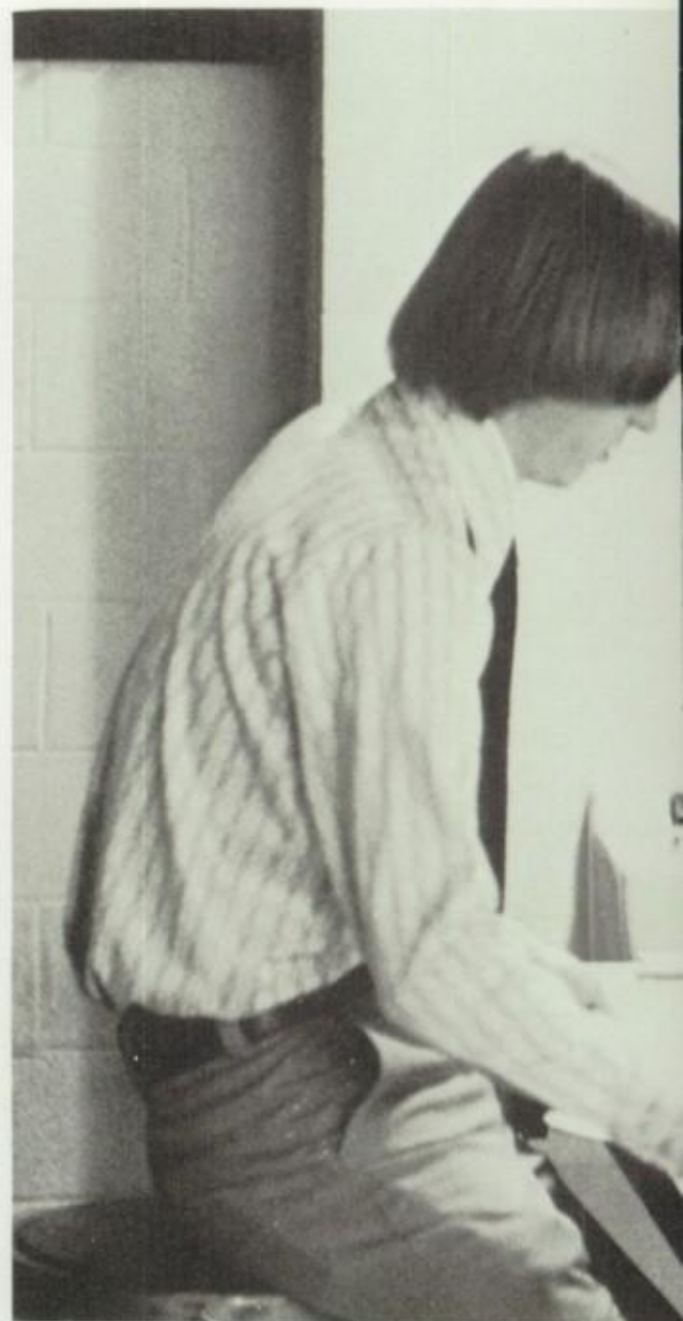

For the first time the C.O.E. program is being offered in the high schools rather than at R.C.E.C. At Glenvar the C.O.E. program which stands for Cooperative Office Education, is headed by Mrs. Kosko. Students in this program take Clerk Typing II for one hour and then leave to work in an office position for half a day. For those enrolled in C.O.E. two credits are given.

Industrial Arts Interest Students

The Industrial Arts Department under the leadership of Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Brammer worked hard to get their students interested in the courses. For the first year students such subjects as mechanical drawing, housing construction, electronics, and working with metals and leather were covered. The second year students moved on and tackled more advanced courses in wood working including, construction of furniture, appreciation for furniture, and wood conservation.

The hopes of more girls becoming aware and interested in this course are high. What is to be benefited by these courses do not pertain only to boys.

The students proved to be very enthusiastic when both boys and girls signed up to take the Betty Crocker Homemaker test.

The Music Department is made up of the band, choir, and something new this year, the chorale. The band was under the direction of Mr. Wilbur Grant; the choir and chorale were under the direction of Miss Brinda Booe.

These three groups worked very hard this year. They performed not only at Glenvar but at festivals, church programs, and many other events throughout the state.

Service Staff Has A 24 Hour Job

The Service Staff consisted of a maid, custodians, and six cafeteria workers. With students trampling throughout the school all day the maintenance staff had a big job. The cafeteria workers provided us with a hot meal every day.

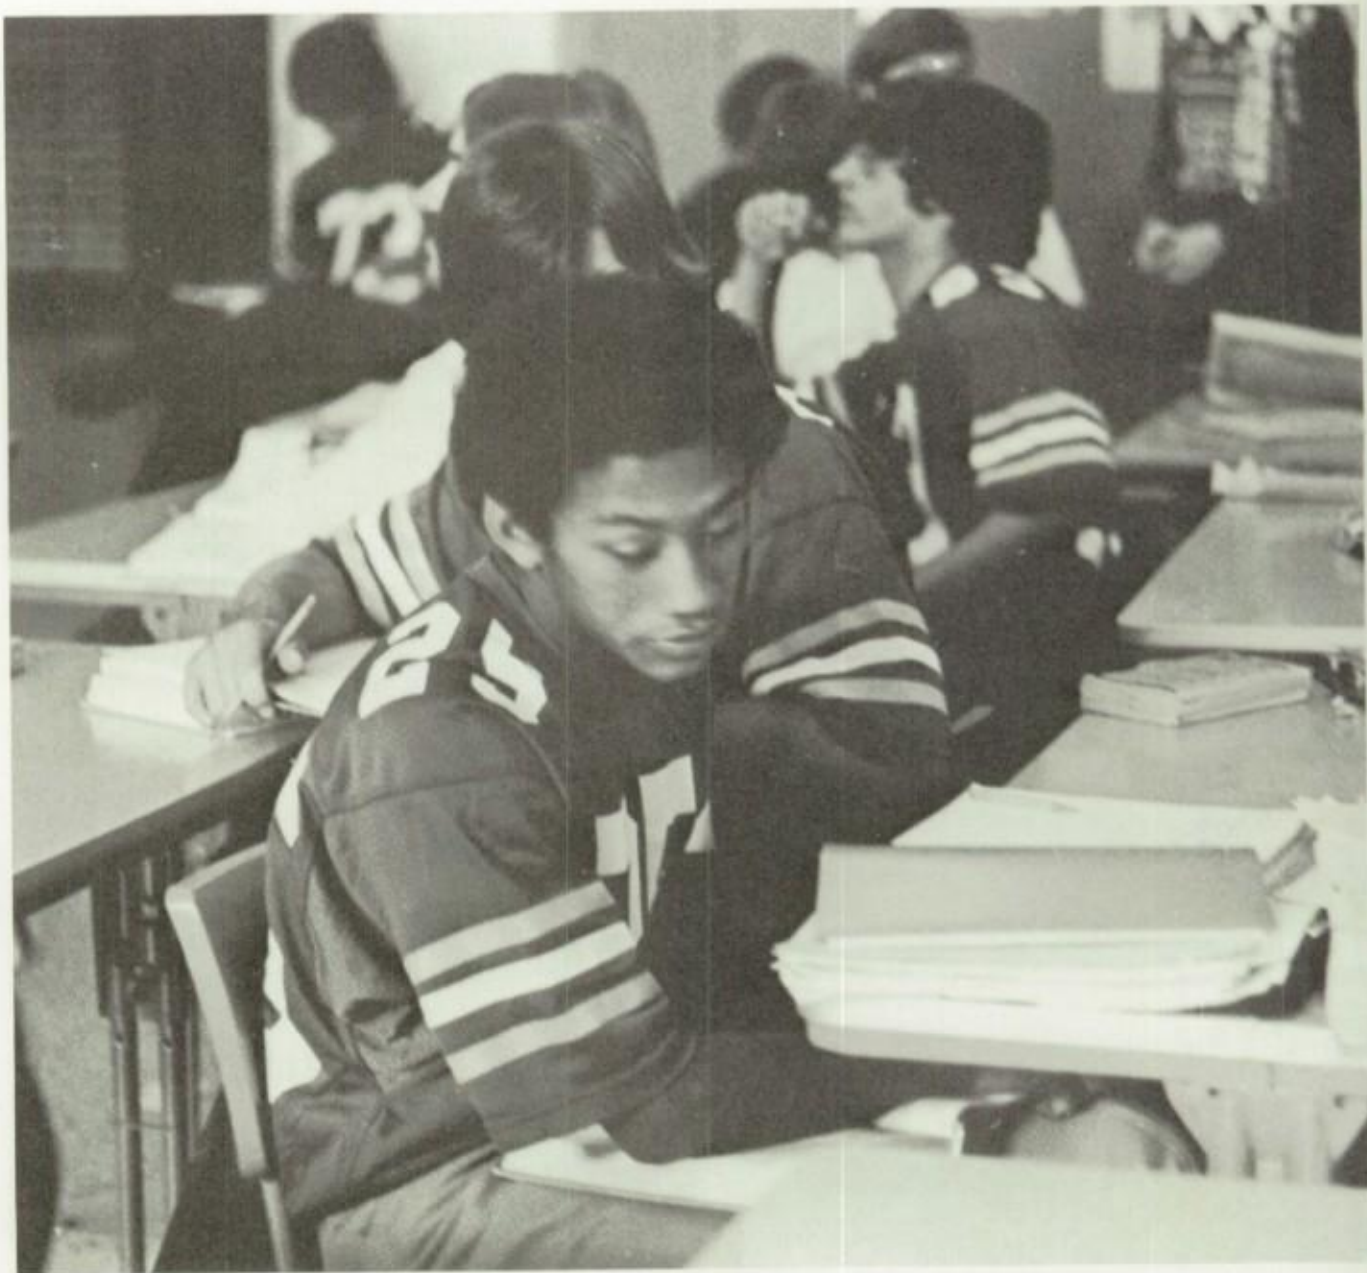

Although all of this was taken for granted, these people worked long and hard for the betterment of Glenvar. Our cafeteria and custodial staff deserve much appreciation for their hard work.

COMMITMENT

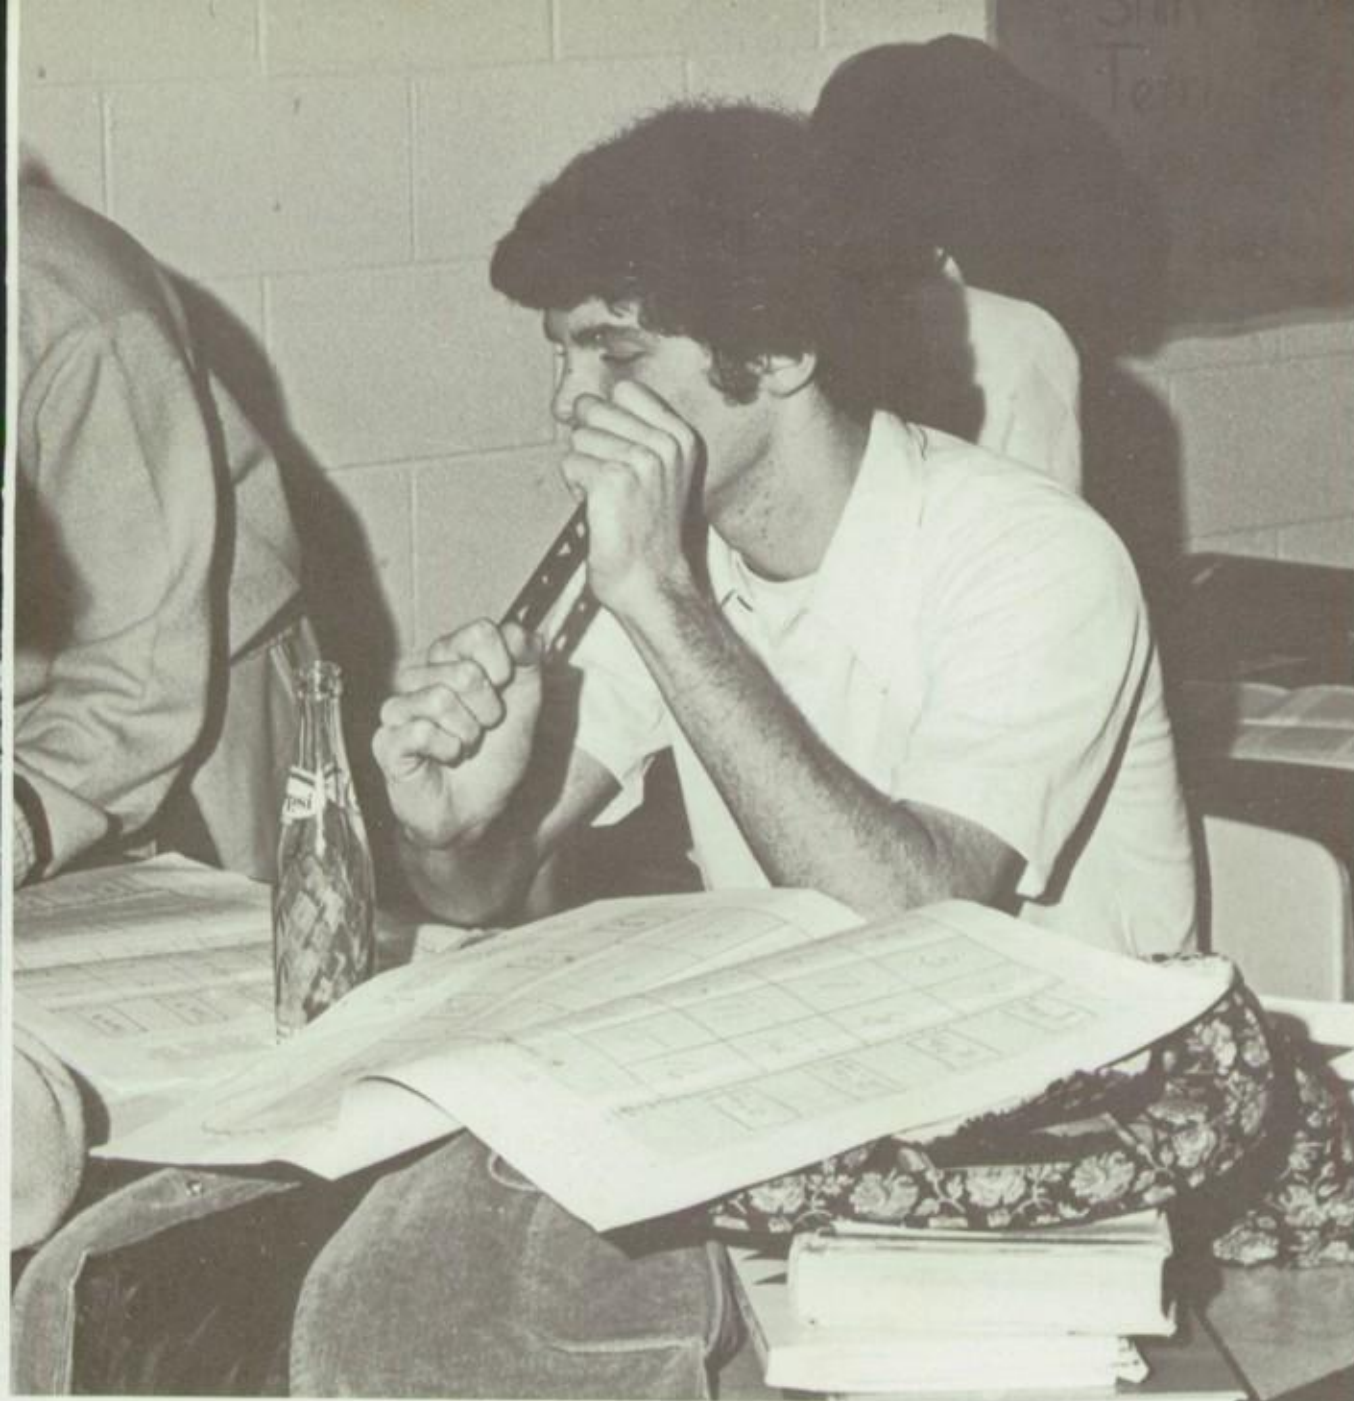

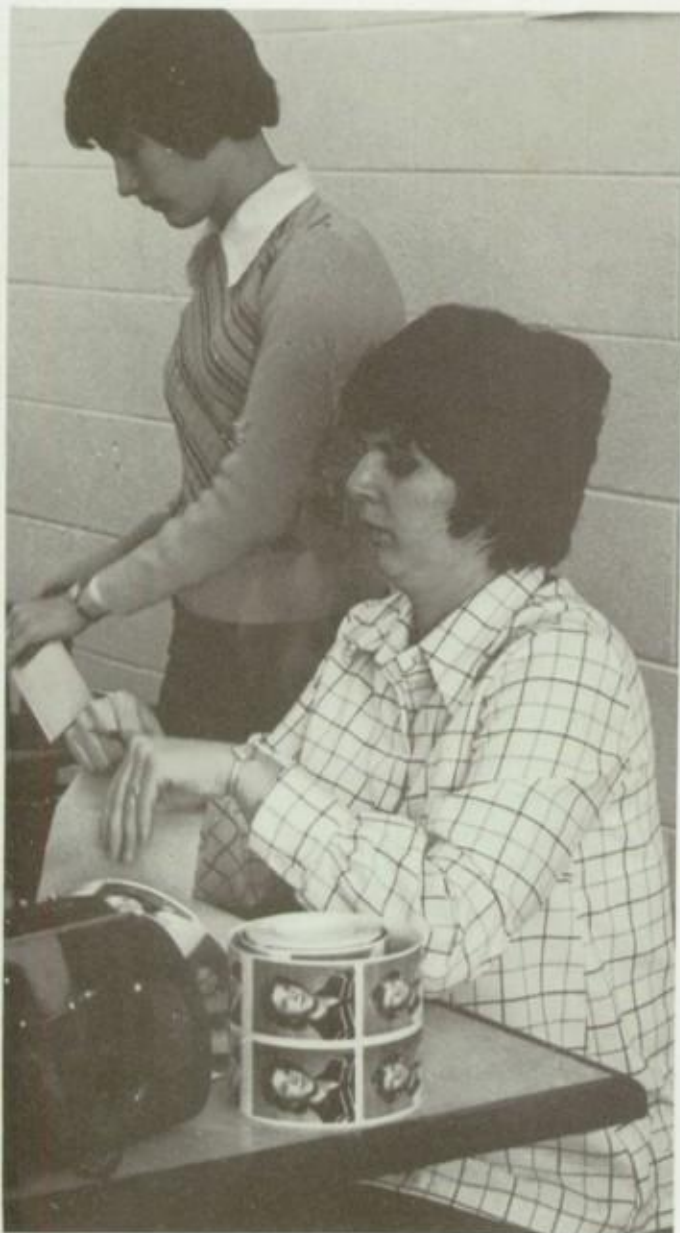

In an attempt to materialize memories the Crusader was faced with a lot of hard work. The annual which was to be produced had to include layouts, copy, headlines, captions, and alot of headaches. Leading the staff toward this goal were co-editors Debbie Doyle and Kathy Surface. The year was full of happenings as the price of annuals increased, candy was sold in order to buy a strobe for the camera, and Mrs. Athey left in January to have her baby. All the rush and confusion of the last few days before a deadline proved worth while when at the end of the year we were able to have some free time and watch the proofs of the book gradually come in until finally the day comes when THE ANNUALS HAVE ARRIVED.

I've Got Rhythm

The band worked very hard to please the crowds at halftime shows and concerts. They not only pleased everyone but attended all but one halftime show during the football season.

During halftime at Glenvar-Andrew Lewis game there was only one band performing and it certainly wasn't the Andrew Lewis band. Due to a disagreement between Lewis' band director and football coach their band did not perform. David Nixon proved to be a very successful band director as this was his first year. And with Mr. Grant as the band director, Glenvar High School was very proud of the HIGHLANDER MARCHING GREEN AND GOLD.

Sing, Sing A Song

Singing can often times bring out a feeling of joy and self-satisfaction. The choir consisted of a group of students who use singing as an outlet. It involves discipline, practice, improvement and last but not least performance. This year the choir of GHS was again under the direction of Miss Brenda Booe. The group participated in several programs for the student body including the Thanksgiving and Christmas performances. The choir has established itself as a young and exceptionally talented group.

I Believe In Music

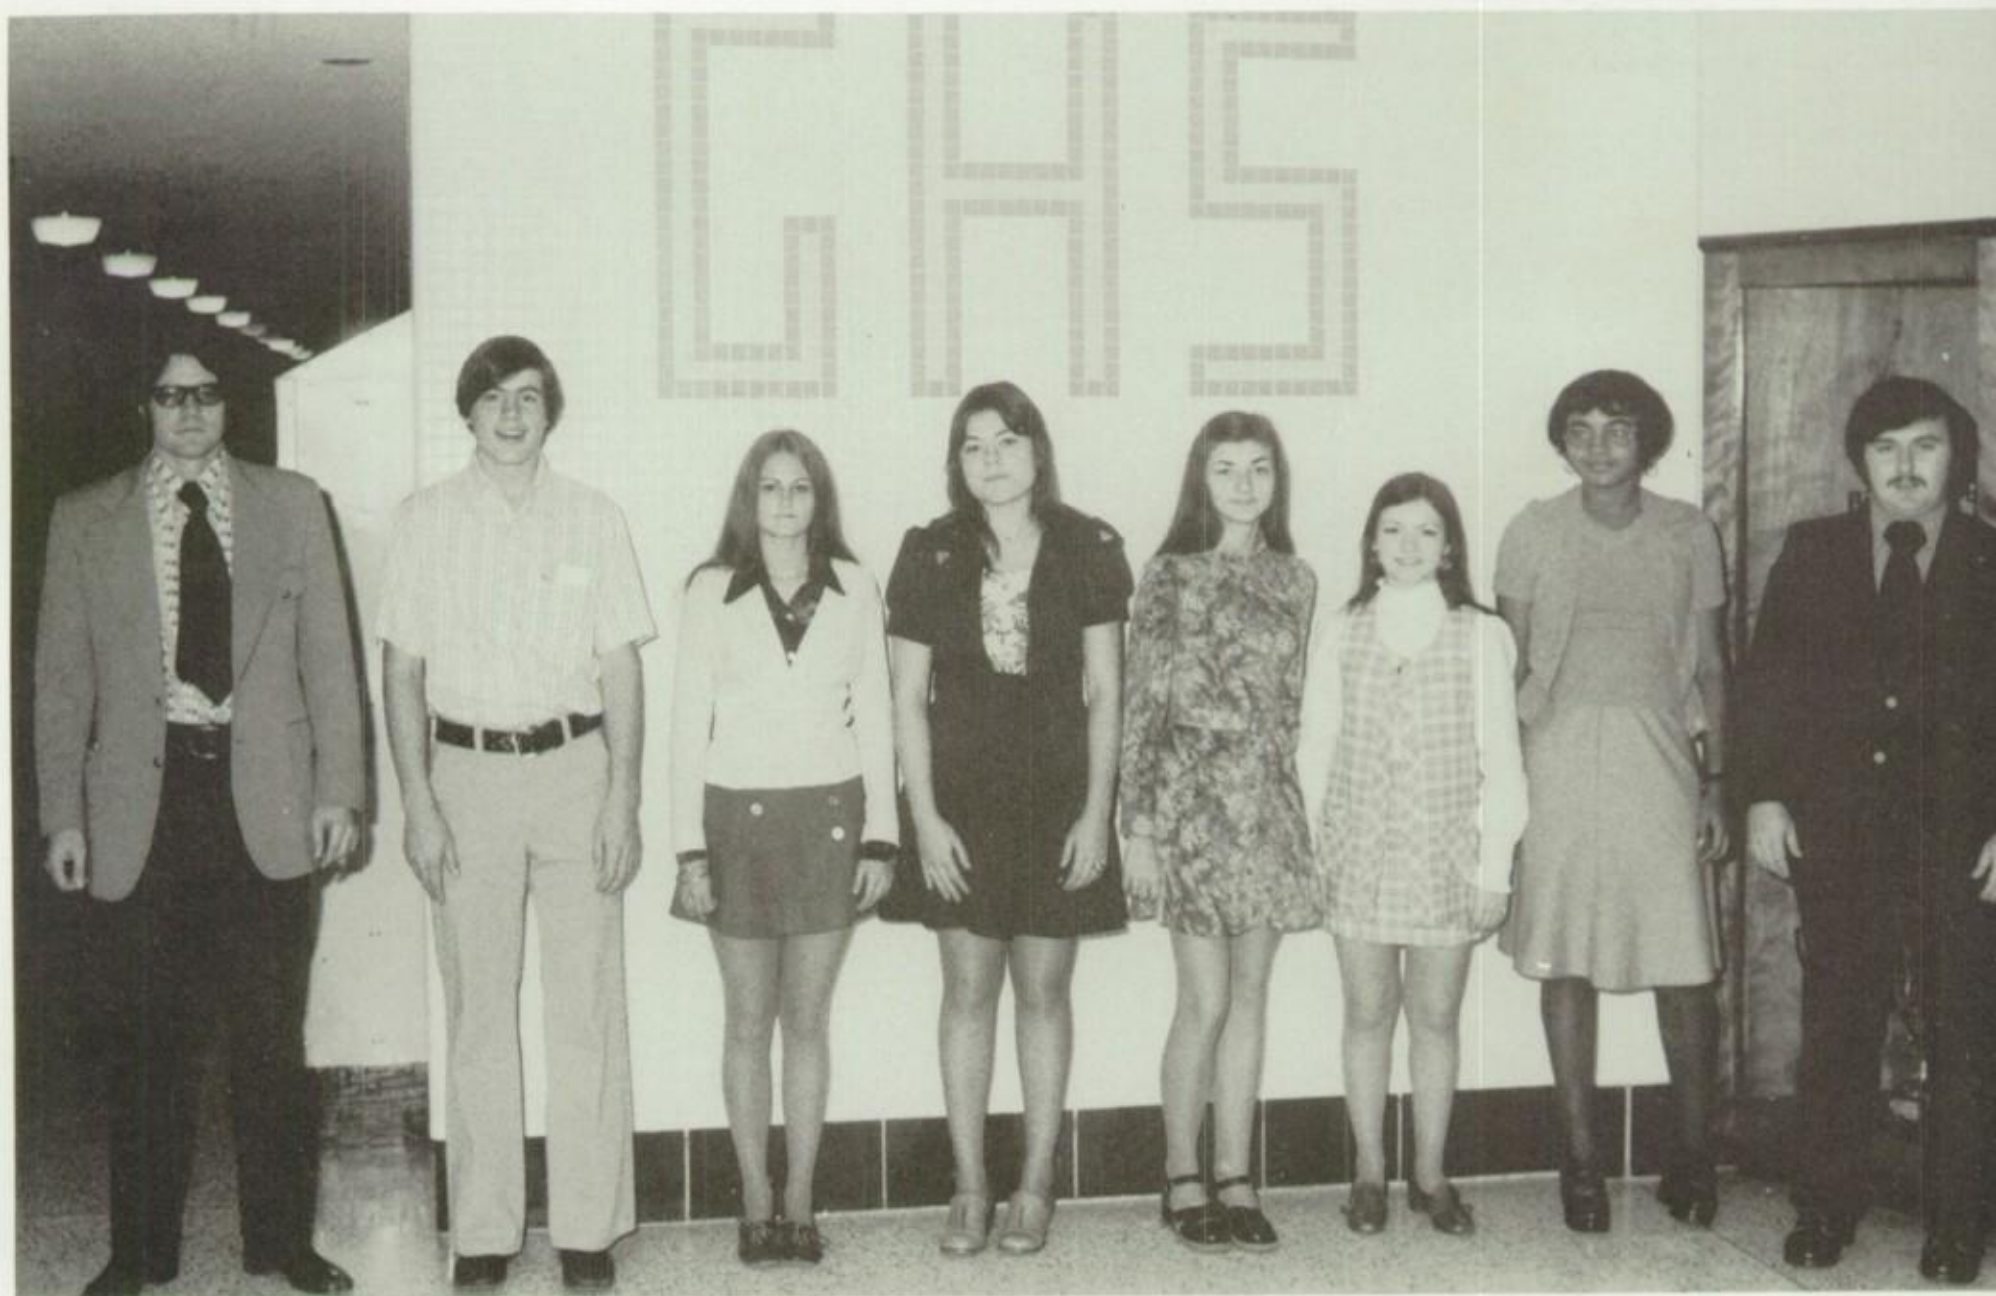

In previous years the music department consisted of a band and choir. This year something new added to the department, was the chorale. The chorale was made up of interested boys and girls. Although a small group it was a very good one. A Thanksgiving program for the PTA, a Group Union Thanksgiving Service, and a Christmas program were among the several performances they gave.

Distributive Education prepares a student for job interviews, work, and help for a future career. The Distributive Education Clubs of America or DECA, is the organization of youth who are interested in the DE program. DE at Glenvar has the largest number of students in the program since it was first organized. DECA provides the opportunity for students to compete in various areas such as displays, job interviews, public speaking, advertisements and many more. Mr. Willis and Mr. Phipps who sponsor the DE program and DECA help to find jobs for the students and teach business tactics. Besides providing a student with a job and income, he learns the importance of getting along with others.

Ivy Sale Successful Project For FBLA

The Future Business Leaders of America were very active this year with their fund raising projects. The most successful was the Ivy sale which included placemats, candles, plaques, and stationary. To further promote the Christmas spirit the organization sold Santa Claus'. A food basket was prepared and taken to a family by several officers and members. All the activities were sponsored by Mrs. Jennings.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes in its second year at G.H.S. proved to be very successful. The total enrollment grew from twenty to thirty-five persons. The club's purpose was to promote a Christian atmosphere and participate in various service projects. The first of many projects consisted of making halloween bags for the children at the Rehab center and Roanoke Memorial Hospital. In November, the F.C.A. sponsored the Bill Glass assembly which was enjoyed by both the students and teachers of Glenvar.

The foreign language league kept busy with many projects this year. Among these was a newspaper drive which turned out to be a successful means for making money. In early fall student directories were sold. Another project was a Christmas program in coordination with the band and choir titled, "Christmas Around the World." Proceeds went toward the Foreign Exchange Program. All was not work in the club. A field trip was taken to the Gourmet Restaurant, where students chose from a variety of French foods. The chef then gave a lecture on gourmet cooking. As time progressed the year proved to be prosperous and rewarding.

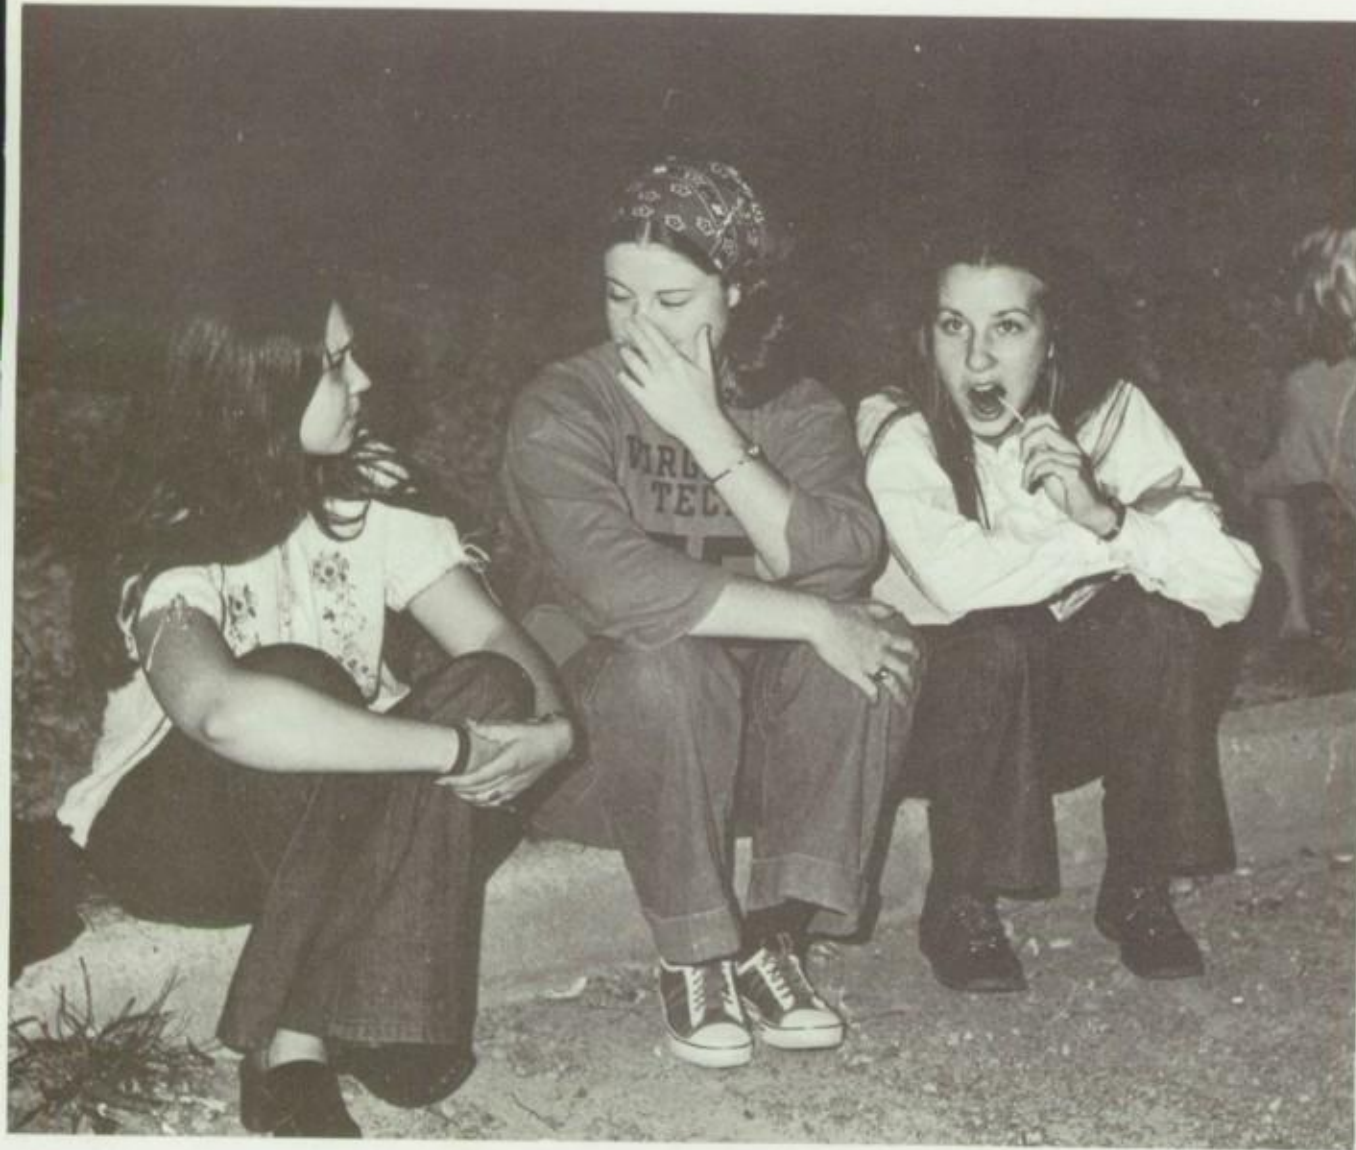

Glenvar New Experience For Sabine

Sabine Hanke is Glenvar's first foreign exchange student in coordination with the American Field Service. She came from Dortmund, Germany, a large industrial city noted for its beer. Her foster home is with Debbie Poff and family.

Sabine has a regular schedule of classes including Latin I, French III, Art, and American History. She is involved in the Latin Club as program chairman, and is also in the Foreign Language League. During homecoming week Sabine was named as an honorary attendant. Mr. Marshall Poff escorted her.

This has been a year of new and exciting experiences for Sabine and we hope it has been one she has enjoyed.

The Future Homemakers of America kept busy this year involving themselves in various projects. The club held bake sales at home football games and sold flower bulbs in order to take a trip to Williamsburg. In October, Glenvar was the host for the annual F.H.A. Federation meeting. Later in the year, projects consisted of turkey and Christmas stocking raffles. Other activities included guest speakers, a mother-Daughter Banquet and a field trip to V.P.I. All of these activities had to do with the year's theme, "Morals and Manners Matter".

Morals and Manners Matter

With the addition of Latin I into the curriculum of Glenvar a Latin club was formed. In order to have Latin, a new teacher, Mrs. Rowena Boehling was added to the teaching staff. As the year opened, the new club and officers were installed as a chapter of the Virginia Junior Classical League by some members of the Andrew Lewis chapter.

The main event of the year was the Latin convention held at Hotel Roanoke. Seven members of the club attended. Money making projects for the year included selling cactus terrariums and Roman posters at the convention. All in all, the Latin club enjoyed a successful year in its first period of existence.

The Monogram Club, open only to those who have received their letters, was again under the direction of Mr. Kucer. Drinks were sold at the basketball games in order to raise money for letter jackets. Serving as officers for this club were Chris Painter, President; Scott Conner, Vice President; Jonathan Barger, Secretary; and Danny Hall, Treasurer; Mike Nichols, Historian.

Honor Society Raises Most Money Ever

The National Honor Society began the year by selling various kinds of candy bars. The profit made from this project went towards the trip which was taken in March.

This year the Honor Society consisted of forty-seven members who had to maintain a 3.25 average or better. This was the largest membership the club has ever had. The organization progressed under the leadership of Mrs. Grizzard and Mrs. Menefee.

Four Win Group Competition

Practicing endless days after school and during the summer kept the Majorettes on their toes. Four of the majorettes attended Lynchburg State Camp where they won first place in group competition. Besides continuous practicing, they attended all but one of the football games. They also marched in the Homecoming parade, New Castle's Christmas parade, and the Apple Blossom Festival. This year Joy Walts was Glenvar's first feature twirler. She fascinated the fans with knife throwing and baton twirling. Being a majorette proved to take up much time and require much talent.

Posters, skits, hot tea, and Hershey bars, these were just a few of the many things which kept the Pep Club active this year. With an enthusiastic and somewhat "bubbly" sponsor such as Mrs. Brock it was hard for the club to go wrong. Meetings were held every Tuesday afternoon where after the business was finished posters were made. Participation was seen in pep rallies as the members took part in skits and cheered whole heartily. At wrestling matches the club worked on as the members kept mat score. The Pep Club proved to show its efforts of spirit and enthusiasm throughout the entire school.

Helping others plays an important part in the role of the Red Cross Youth. In its third year as a club, it has grown in its concern for others. As the club's sponsor Mrs. McCarthy helps plan new activities. Bake sales were among the money making projects. Many of the activities that keep the Red Cross Youth busy included helping with the bloodmobile. For Christmas they provided a party for the patients at the Veterans Hospital. Each month the club sends two members to attend the Red Cross Chapter meeting. Helping other people provides a great satisfaction for the members of the club.

SAE Members Visit Colleges

Student Action for Education club united this year for the primary purpose of providing better lines of communication between the teachers and students. Under the direction of Ms. Robison and Ms. Altizer, the club performed several helpful and rewarding tasks during the course of the year. The biggest event for the SAE occurred in November when the student members were allowed to conduct classes for the day in whatever field they chose. The club also gave a tea party for the teachers and visited various colleges in the spring. Looking over these accomplishments for the year it can be said that the SAE did indeed achieve the goal which they had set.

The Student Cooperative Association became involved this year and accomplished many projects. Randy Downey as president and sponsor, Miss Ankrom, showed fine leadership.

An orientation day sponsored by the SCA took place in the fall. Students acted as guides and showed the freshmen around Glenvar. Students became conscious this year about the question of the Responding Series literature books. Petitions were signed and Randy presented them to the Salem City Council. The SCA decided this year to elect representatives for Classroom Kwiz. In the past the Honor Society had elected them. Christmas was a time for more projects for the SCA. Food baskets were collected in coordination with the Honor Society. A Christmas tree was put up in the lobby to give the school the look of Christmas.

The many projects proved to involve students in their school and make the SCA a success.

Glenvar Hosts County Science Fair

The Science Club, in an effort to widen student's interests in science, has had many different activities in the past year. Several students participated in a contest to design an emblem for Viking — America's first scientific laboratory to land on another planet. This contest was sponsored by NASA. Glenvar was also host to the County Invitational Science Fair. The club had many speakers presenting a variety of topics related to science at each of the monthly meetings. Field trips were sponsored for chemistry, physics, and Earth Science Students. The Science Club is affiliated with the Virginia Junior Academy of Science and the Future Scientists of America.

SODA Helps Elementary Students

SODA, Student Organization for Developing Attitudes participated as a club for the first time this year. It's purpose is drug prevention and the development of self expression. The SODA team works with fifth graders at Glenvar Elementary. The theory behind SODA is: "If students are given the opportunity to react when they are young, they will be able to express their emotions when they are older." The Glenvar SODA team is affiliated with other teams from all over the Roanoke area.

Thistle Struggles Through Another Year

The Thistle Staff had two primary goals for 1974-75. It was hoped to increase the quality of the school newspaper, and to survive economically throughout the entire year. New staff members brought talent and imagination to feature articles and news stories, thus making much progress in turning out a quality publication. Busily scheming to make enough money, the Thistle Staff went on in its search for survival.

A Crowd of Many Different Faces
Each Unique
In Their Own Way

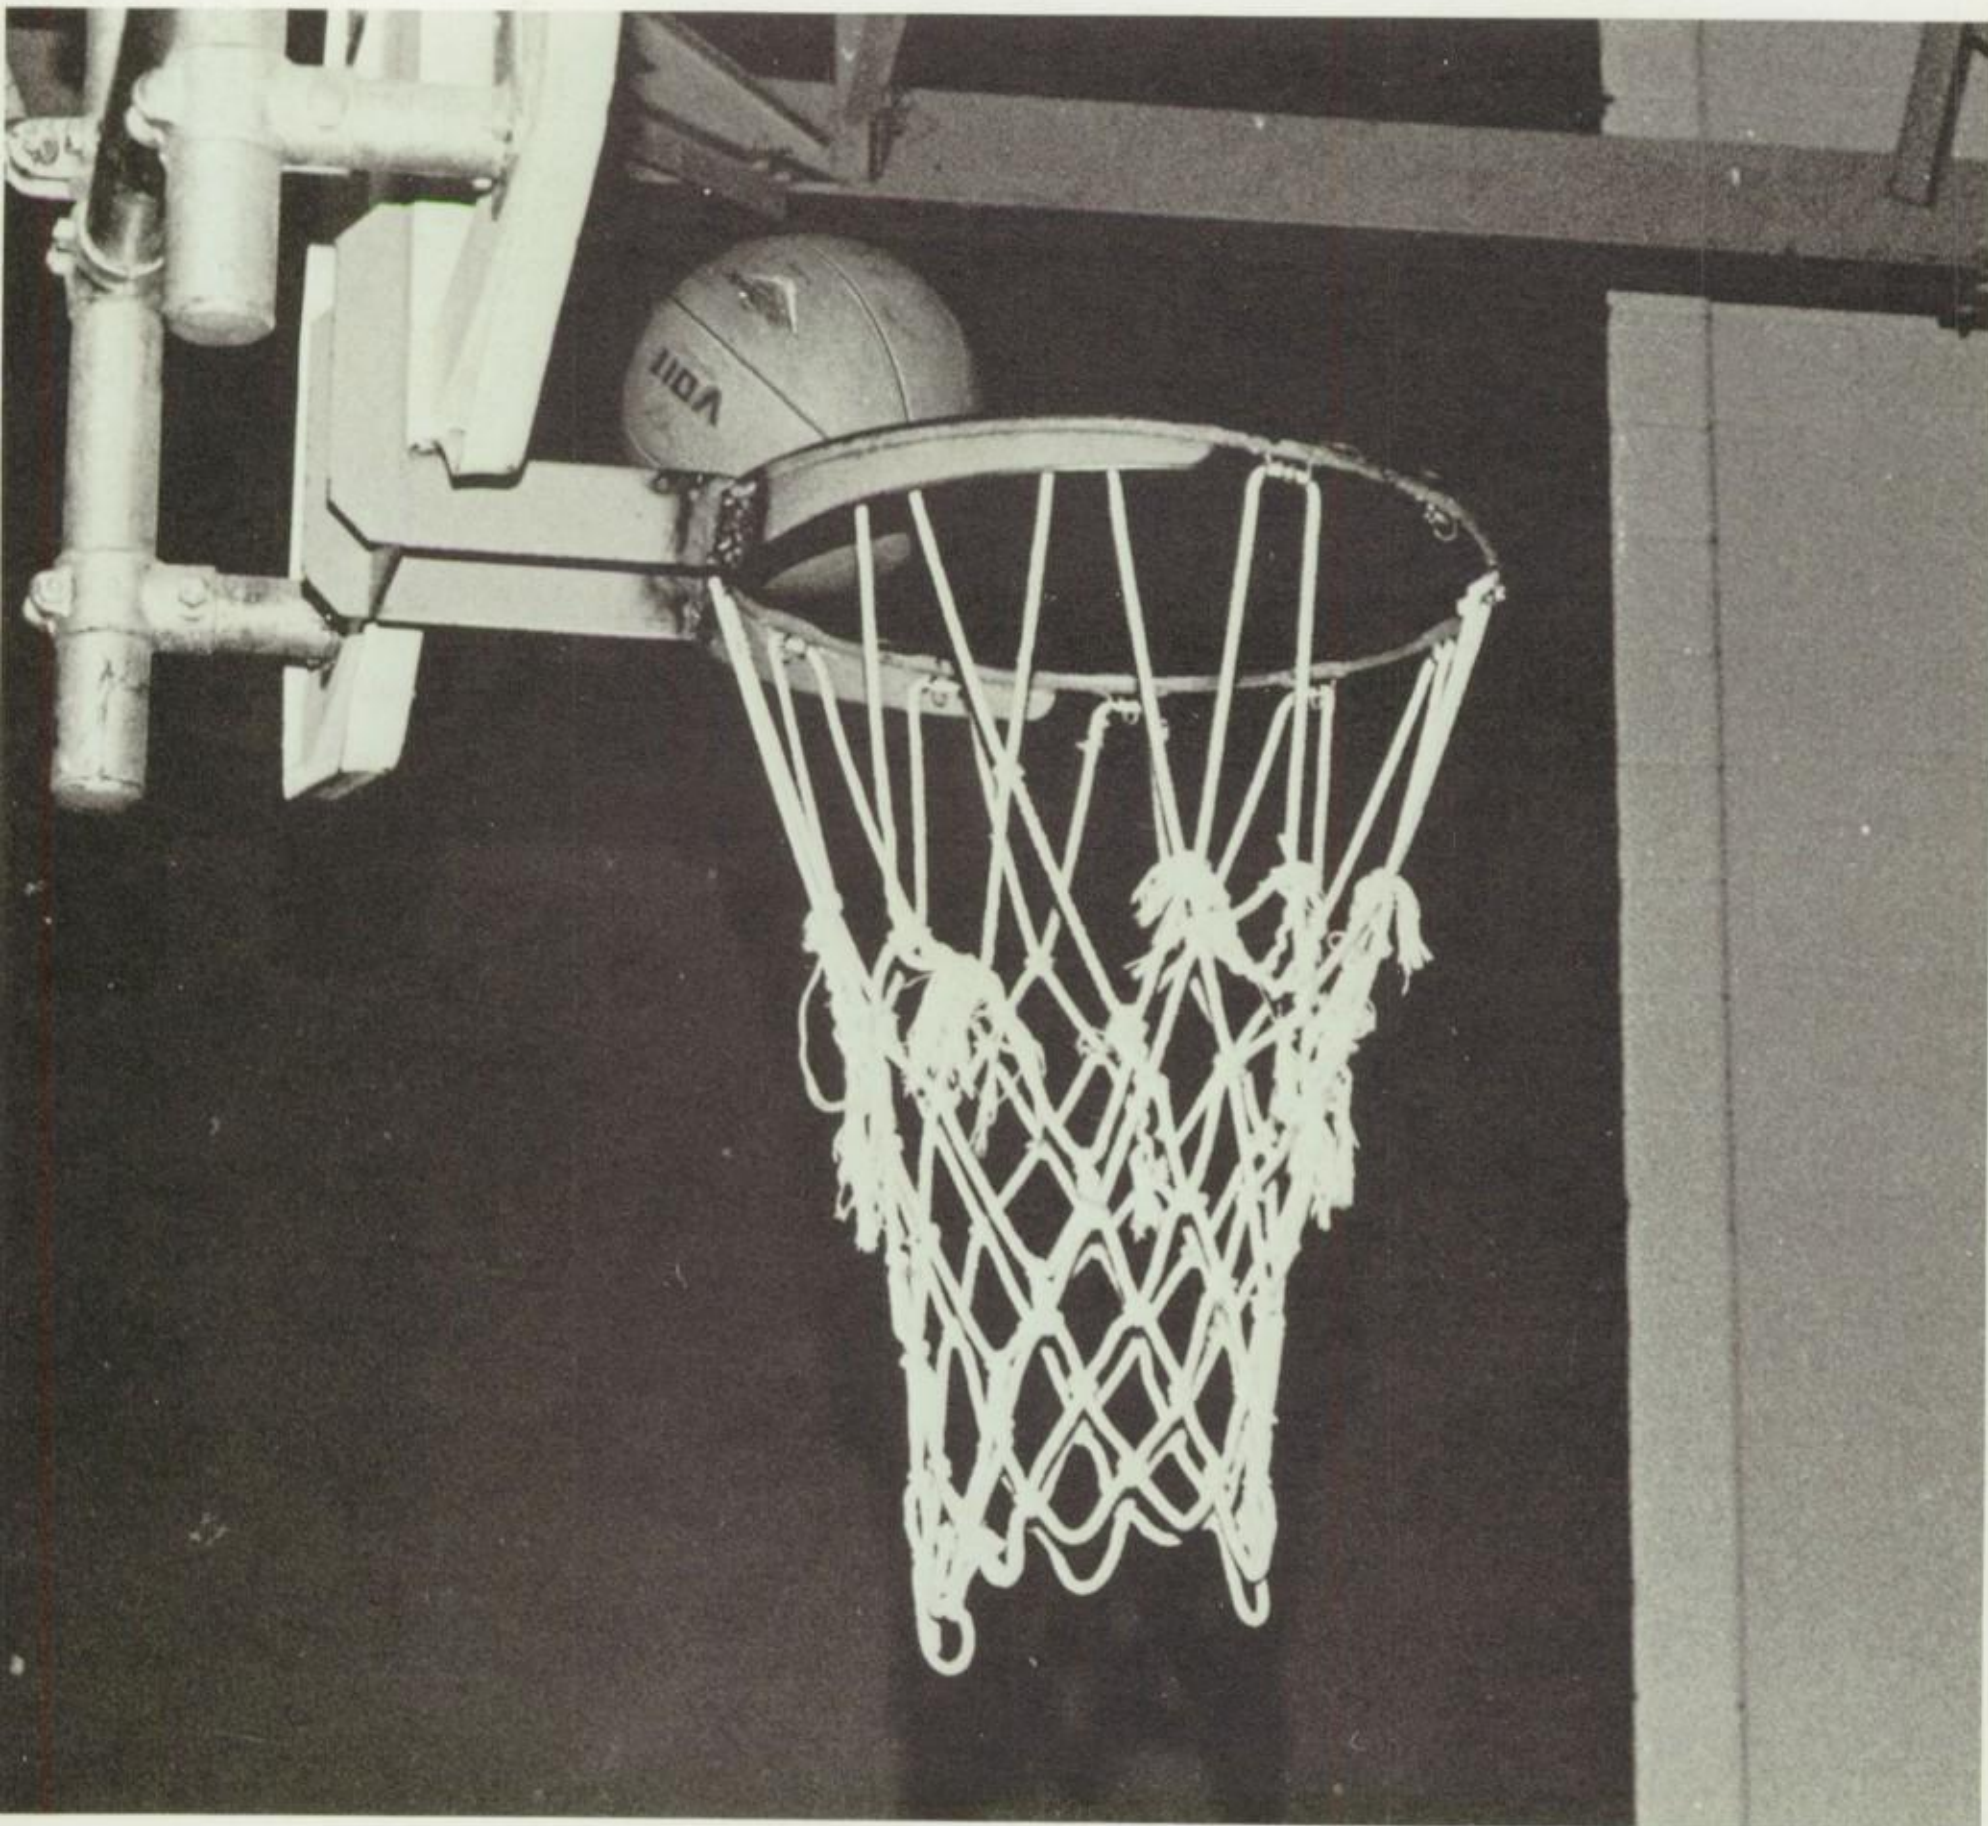

As 1974 changed into 1975, Glenvar High School felt a new sensation. The entire student body, the faculty, and administration experienced a new sense of pride. As a school, we showed our enthusiasm in basketball pep rallies. As individuals, we could now proudly say we were from Glenvar, and no one would laugh. By winning the State

Basketball tournament, Glenvar was recognized and actually backed by many area schools. This year proved that we are not "just another face in the crowd".

The '74-'75 school year peaked with the AA State Basketball Championship. The rest of the year gracefully slid by in an anti-climatic sort of way. If the spring of the year had any kind of climax, it could have been Glenvar's science students showing their knowledge and winning awards at the VJAS convention, or the explosion of firecrackers in the upstairs' boys' restroom. Now that the year is over, we realize that this year won't be lost among other high school years. It will be remembered as one of the best in Glenvar's history.

Baseball Has Another Successful Season

Glenvar's 1975 baseball season was nothing less than exciting. Despite three straight losses early in the season, the team maintained a victorious record. With the help of Coach Finnerty, the team took second place in the Blue Ridge District. Gary Nickerson was one of the outstanding hitters, while Tony Caldwell and Vance Price were recognized as both leading hitters and outstanding pitchers. Coach Finnerty said that this season provided very valuable training for the underclassmen who will comprise next year's baseball team.

The track team completed another successful season. In the district tournament, Glenvar's trackmen placed in several events. Tom Cain placed 4th in the long jump, 3rd in the 100 yard dash, and 5th in the 440. Dan Wilbourne was 4th in the high jump and triple jump. Norman Cruft was 2nd in the pole vault. Jeff Hill was 3rd in discus and Steve Pillis was 3rd in the 330. The 880 relay team, which consisted of Pillis, Cruft, Graham and Ward, placed 3rd and the mile relay team of Pillis, Cruft, Conner and Cain placed 2nd. In the two mile run David Roberson came in 2nd. In the regional meet, Norman Cruft placed 5th in the pole vault and the mile relay team also placed 5th. Cruft represented Glenvar at the state meet. New school records were also set this year by members of the track team. They were the mile relay team, Roberson in the two mile run, Pillis in the 330 intermediate hurdles, and the sprint medley team. The team's performance was considered good, by the coaches, Pitts, Hall and Martin, and the school.

Tennis Team Places Third In District

The tennis team finished their season with a record of 6 wins and 7 losses. They placed third in the district tournaments. Out of the top 10 players, only two will be graduating. The most valuable player for the season was Jeff Sowder. The team showed improvement this year and plans to have an even better season next year.

On May 10, the junior-senior prom was held. The theme, "Stairway to Heaven," set the mood. This was a year of many changes. For the first time the prom was not at the school but at the Salem-Roanoke Valley Civic Center. Decorations were not as elaborate as in past years, but the theme was carried through with staircases and clouds. Music was provided by the band Celebration.

To Heaven

On a scorcher of a day in May, the awards assembly was presented to the school. As the assembly continued into third period, everyone grew restless in the heat.

The highlights of the assembly were Mr. David Trumbower, teacher-of-the-year; Larry Williams and Debbie Poff, Highlanders of the Year; Kelda Flinchum, the English award; and Debbie Doyle, the Citizenship Award. Larry Williams also received B'nai B'rith and the Sportsmanship Award. Mrs. Diana Athey received the annual dedication. Jeff Hill, president of the senior class, presented Mr. Crush a gift from the senior class. Mr. Crush will be leaving Glenvar in body, but he won't be leaving in spirit.

Graduation. A time of contrasts. Tears of joy. Tears of sadness. Randy Pratt, second in the class, put feelings into words by saying: "Your friends say they'll keep in touch, but they probably won't. Your teachers tell you to come back and visit, but you probably won't. Someday it won't matter, but right now it hurts a little."
